

Dan Platt Demo Reel Shot List - 2008

Please note: Everything modeled 100% in Quads

Sonny NS5 from I, Robot: Developed the look of Sonny from pencil sketches by Patrick Tatopoulos

Shock Trooper: Modeled the shock trooper from BOLT

Ford Thunderbird: High detailed "moving set" from American Dog.

Ford F1 Truck: Lighter yet detailed truck from American Dog

Farm House/ Movie set: Modeled this set for American Dog. All like parts are identical in topology but different in shape

Robinson Industries Building: Modeled the "R" building for Meet the Robinsons

"Adoptive parents" from Meet the Robinsons:

Quick blendshape test from blonde female in Meet the Robinsons

Blonde female character (screen right) Character modeling, hair modeling and blendshapes

Dark haired female and heavy set male - Character modeling, hair modeling and blendshapes

Older gentlemen with mustache and heavy set female - Character modeling, hair modeling and blendshapes

Medicus: Character modeling & design, animation for Merck

Edna Mode: Character remodeling. Internal test where one mesh is used as a base for all the subsequent characters. This version is a study of the brilliant Pixar character.

Pele from Tiki time: Vis Dev, Finished 16" tall supersculpey maquette of their main antagonist

Frankenstein in different styles: Vis Dev, quick silhouette studies in supersculpey

Jersey Devil: Highly detailed, 12" tall, finished supersculpey maquette for a personal project

Star Wars Trilogy Icon: 40" x 30" high relief sculpt for the S.W. Trilogy movie poster

Leia: 5.5" Wax toy pattern

Cave Bat from The Cave: 4 1/2' scanning model in supersculpey for the film, The Cave

"The Director" from Bolt: Modeled this character, clothes and hair

Music: Crystal Method and samples from Batman and U.F.O. T.V. shows

Clips: I, Robot, Bolt, Meet The Robinsons